Great coal deposits are said to have been discovered in Alaska, 400 miles up the Yokukuk river, which is pronounced equal to the best Pennsylvania anthracite.

Not more than half as many American tourists went abroad this year as usual, and about 75 per cent. more than usual have returned.

The King of Swaziland, in South Africa, never buys any shooting irons until he tests them to his satisfaction. He recently shot about a dozen of his servants to test the efficiency of an improved rifle.

Some of the New York papers complain at the decline in New York's foreign commerce, which has been $100,000,000 a year since 1892. Other ports, especially Southern ports, are gaining what New York is losing.

The pay of the American private soldier is not enough to make him look down with disdain on his poor relations, but it is a bonanza compared with the pay of the private in the Russian army, who gets $2.25 a year. But in addition to this he has the privilege of getting shot when the emergencies present themselves, a privilege that a fellow who doesn't handle more than $2.25 a year ought to avail himself of.

It is intimated that Commodore Schley with the Brooklyn and some other daisy ships may be added to Commodore Watson's squadron, which it is now said is to be sent across the Atlantic for the moral effect it will have on European nations. There are a good many who think that Watson's squadron should be added to Schley, who has shown himself to be a great and a speedy moralizer, and also on special occasions a demoralizer of the fellows he runs up against.

The Spaniards talk just like the Republican machine manipulators in North Carolina do, who want fusion with the Pops on "honorable terms." While they are waiting for somebody to fix up the honorable terms for them, they are being walloped and made so dizzy that they couldn't recognize "honorable terms" if they saw them. The Rep machine manipulators are coming in for their share of walloping, too, later on.

Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts, has lately been linguistically larruping Prof. Norton, of Hartford University, for some of his un-American and un-patriotic talk to the students. We don't often happen to get on Hoar's side of a debate, but in this wrangle we are with him. Norton is a stale egg.

A Mexican genius claims to have perfected a process by which dynamite can be shot from a gun with ordinary gun powder. Who would have thought of an unsophisticated Mexican studying up such mischief.

London has recently been taken in by a bogus count. That's right. Heretofore these bogus counts have been doing their buncoing mostly on this side.

ATLANTA REUNION.

Young Ladies Representing North Carolina Recipients of Marked Attention.

SPONSOR AND ATTENDANTS.

Entertained at the Kimball House as Guests of the City of Atlanta—Receptions in Their Honor—North Carolina Division Headquarters.

Col. W. L. DeRosset, Col. W. J. Woodward, and Capt. James I. Metts, of the Wilmington Confederate Veterans, returned from the Confederate Reunion at Atlanta Sunday via the Seaboard Air Line accompanied by Miss Penelope B. Myers, of Washington, N. C., sponsor for North Carolina Miss Annie Blount DeRosset, first maid of honor, came with the party as far as Monroe, but changed cars there for Asheville where she will be for some time. Miss Myers will be in the city for a few days as the guest of Mrs. T. E. Sprunt. Dr. E. Porter, of Rocky Point, and Mr. J. O. Ormsby, of this city, were not with those who came by the Seaboard Air Line, but arrived by another route.

While highly pleased with the reunion in every respect, the old Confederates are more than proud and delighted at the great cordiality which the young ladies of North Carolina received and the honor, which were heaped upon them. They were entertained at the Kimball House, where they were the guests of the city of Atlanta. On Wednesday night they were entertained by the Capital Club and the R. E. Lee Society and on Friday night the headquarters of the sponsors and the maids of honor were visited by Governor Atkinson and staff, Miss Winnie Davis and other notable persons.

Saturday morning the young ladies under the chaperonage of Col. W. J. Woodward, visited the Constitution building, where they were made the special guests of Hon. W. A. Hemphill. Afterwards they went to Fort McPherson, where by a lucky chance a Wilmington soldier, Mr. E. A. McKoy, was doing guard duty, and, of course, did all in his power for the comfort and entertainment of the visitors. Among the interesting features of the place were numerous Spanish soldiers and wounded Americans. To the latter the North Carolina girls gave flowers and uttered words of sympathy and praise. A few of the young ladies from this State, besides those already named, were Miss Grier, of Charlotte, sponsor of Mecklenburg camp; Miss Wall, of Rockingham, sponsor of Rockingham camp, and the following brigade maids of honor: Miss Kelly, of Charlotte; Miss Clinard, of Hickory; Miss Leach, of Lillington, and Miss Shartle, of Asheville.

The veterans speak with the greatest delight however about the special courtesies which were shown the North Carolina sponsor and the first maid of honor. Thursday afternoon they received with Miss Winnie Davis at the residence of Mr. F. S. Ellis on Peachtree street. On the same afternoon they attended receptions given by Gen. C. A. Evans and Hon. Hoke Smith. Thursday night at a reception given by the city of Atlanta to the sponsors and first maids of honor, Miss Myers and Miss DeRosset were publicly spoken of as the most charming and fascinating ladies present. Friday the North Carolina sponsor and maid of honor with Col. Woodward and Hon. W. A. Hemphill of the Atlanta Constitution, were the guests of the Piedmont Driving Club at their splendid park, and at a breakfast given in honor of Miss Winnie Davis Miss DeRosset was accorded the high privilege of being the only unmarried lady invited.

Division Headquarters.

The North Carolina division had its headquarters at the Leyden House, the proprietor of which, Major Leyden, commanded Leyden's Artillery in the civil war. The house was surrendered to North Carolina, and the division flag floated above the building.

The reunion was a complete success. The veterans all say so. They affirm that the Atlantians can't be beaten in hospitality, and they will always have the most pleasant recollection of their stay in the Gate City.

LICENSE WAS NOT USED.

A Jilted Lover Returned to His Regiment—Was Wounded at Santiago.

An unused marriage license was returned to the Register of Deeds' office yesterday. It was issued June 15th for the marriage of Sergeant Richard Martin, of the Tenth regiment colored cavalry and Margie A. Holmes, of this city. It seems that Martin completed a five years enlistment in the regular army about June 1st and left his regiment at Tampa, Fla., to come home, marry his old sweetheart and settle down in private life. On the eve of the day for his marriage the engagement was broken off and Martin left at once, rejoined his company at Tampa and was ordered to Santiago. His friends here say that they have seen his name among the list of wounded in the battle before Santiago.

They instructed the superintendent to request the Board of Aldermen, the Board of Audit and Finance concurring, to increase the number of trash carts to seven carts and two wagons. There are only three carts in actual service now.

At the request of Superintendent Skelding, of the Wilmington Street Railway Company, an order was passed granting that company a general immergency permit for making repairs on their tracks throughout the city.

DANCE ON THE BEACH

Complimentary Hop in Honor of Young Ladies Visiting in Wilmington.

AT THE SEASHORE HOTEL.

One of the Most Successful and Enjoyable Affairs of the Season—The Visitors and Others Who Participated in the Hop.

The hop at Seashore Hotel, Ocean View beach, last night was one of the most brilliant events of the kind that has been given this season. As previously announced in the STAR, it was a complimentary hop by the young men in honor of visiting and Wilmington ladies. Proprietor Campbell and manager Crawford of the hotel were lavish with courtesies and ministered in every way possible to the success of the occasion.

The young men had previously secured the "right of way" in the hotel, and the motto of the occasion was, "On with the dance; let joy be unconfined." Refreshments were served about 12 o'clock. The gentlemen composing the management committee, to whom much credit is due for the great success of the hop, were Mr. James Black, Mr. Edwin Brown and Mr. Joe Curathers.

An arrangement was made by the young men for running a late train from the beach. It left the Seashore Hotel at 1.00 A. M., with a merry company of Wilmingtonians homeward bound. Capt. Lippitt was the efficient and accommodating conductor in charge.

The following ladies and gentlemen participated in the hop:

Miss Sadie Hanes, Winston; Miss Lenna Neville and Miss Sue Gunning, Columbus, Ohio; Miss Theodora Bryan Grimes, Grimesland; Miss May Tayloe, Washington, N. C.; Miss LeGrand, Norfolk; Miss Ella Taylor; Washington, N. C.; Miss Grace King, Charlotte; Miss Virgina Clark, Tarboro; Miss Noel, Lexington, Miss.; Misses Mary L. The Ball Game Friday.

The O. A. N. boys now boast of the strongest base ball team in the history of the club. The recent addition of Tate Royster and others has greatly strengthened the team and it is probable that the boys from Pittsboro will not find it easy to shut them out. In facti there is every indication that an interesting game of ball will be played Friday, and if the visitors do win they must pay dearly for their laurals. The people of Wilmidgton should give the boys a big crowd.

Hauled Crowds of People.

Last Saturday and Sunday Wilmington Seacoast Railroad to Ocean View beach did the biggest passenger business of the season except possible that of July Fourth. All trains were crowded with pleasure seekers. Travel was especially heavy on Saturday. The road seems to be doing a splendid business and is giving an excellent service. Supt. R. O. Grant and Captains E. L. Hinton and Joe Lippitt are untiring in their efforts to give the public the very best accommodations.

Mr. T. C. Craft, Jr., Married.

Mr. Thomas C. Craft, of this city, has received a telegram announcing the marriage of his son, Mr. Thomas C. Craft, Jr., who now resides in Baltimore, to Miss Caroline B. Etheredge, of that city. The ceremony was performed Saturday afternoon.

The Shooting Accidental.

A case was tried before 'Squire R. H. Bunting yesterday, in which Bill Lee, colored, was charged with shooting Ben Bonner, also colored. The offence was committed Friday night. The evidence indicated that Bill Lee was passing Ben Bonner's house when the latter's dog sprang out at him. He drew his pistol and fired. The shot went wide of the mark and struck Bonner, wounding him in the leg. 'Squire Bunting dismissed the case.

Hall, of Sloop Point, and nephew of Mr. A. E. Blake, of this city. He had been having chills and fevers, but was better on Friday. NEWS FROM RALEIGH.

Gov. Russell's Advice to the Republican Usurpers of New Hanover County.

TO GET DOWN AND GET OUT.

He Realizes the Incompetency of the Republican Board and Believes That They Have Already Matters in Shape to Embarras the Democrats.

[Special Star Correspondence.]

RALEIGH, N. C., July 23.

The statement that Governor Russell has advised the Republican Board of County Commissioners of New Hanover county to yield to the ruling of Judge Robinson and let the Democratic Board take possession is considered thoroughly reliable. Though private secretary Cade and all of the State officials deny having given out such information and plead ignorance on the subject, there is one close to the Governor who is authority for the statement. He will not allow his name to be used, but the information, he says, is guaranteed.

The Republican Board, it is said, wrote to the Governor at the time of the institution of proceedings by the Democratic Board, asking for advice on the subject and this is the Governor's reason for tendering the advice. It is stated that the Governor considered the fight of the Republican Board as hopeless and thus informed them. He also said in his letter that his advice was in accord with a recent ruling of the State Supreme Court.

The opinion of a gentleman in this city who is an intimate friend of the Governor, is that Russell's reasons for giving this advice is not alone the status of the law, but he realizes the incompetency of the Republican board and believes matters are in such condition as will embarrass the Democratic board when it comes into power.

D. B. Shaw, of Charlotte, has been commissioned State detective. There are to be two assistants in each county in the State, and the organization will be perfect, it is said.

[Special Star Telegram.]

The court of inquiry into the hospital management of the Second regiment reported yesterday to Col. Burgwyn. This afternoon Col. Burgwyn made the report public, with his comments. He censures Chief Surgeon J. H. Stockard, and advises more careful attention to duty hereafter. In substance, it is a mild roast for the hospital management. The surgeon asked for an investigation, and it appears that he got a little more than he expected.

Not Guilty of the Charge.

Justice R. H. Bunting rendered his decision yesterday in the case against Mr. C. R. Branch, charged with insulting an officer while in the discharge of his duty. STAR readers will remember that Mr. Branch was arrested by Chief of Police Melton because he was abusing the chief on account of what he considered unfair treatment in settling an impounding claim a few days previous. The case was heard Saturday. 'Squire Bunting ruled yesterday that Mr. Branch was not guilty of abusing an officer while in the discharge of his duty, but that he was guilty of disorderly conduct. He suspended judgment on the payment of costs.

Bogart's Annual Excursion.

Bogart's annual excursion from Greensboro and Ramsuer next Friday, is expected to be one of the largest of the season. There will probably be ten or twelve coaches full of people and part of two days will be spent in the city. A party of the excursionists ard planning to leave here early Saturday morning on the Marion for the blackfish grounds, returning in time to leave for home in the afternoon. It is also expected that many of the visitors will go to sea on the Wilmington Saturday.

Colored Excursionists.

An excursion of about 350 colored people arrived here yesterday over the C. F. & Y. V. railroad at 11.30, from Fayetteville and points between here and there. It was managed by Mr. J. A. King, of Fayetteville. The excursion train left last night at 9 o'clock.

There was also a colored excursion from Goldsboro with about the same number of people. There were quite enough on both excursions to keep the streets crowded with the colored element nearly all day.

At Fort McPherson.

Col. W. L. DeRosset was exceedingly well pleased with the reunion at Atlanta, but there was one thing at Fort McPherson that didn't suit him at all. That was the way in which white and colored soldiers were thrown together. He saw about thirty men on guard duty, part white and part black. The cot upon which the Caucasian slept was side by side with that occupied by the African. This was associating the two races too intimately, Col. DeRosset thought.

— The regular, bona fide circulation of THE MORNING STAR is much larger than that of any other daily newspaper published in Wilmington.

In July, 1894, Mr. Willis P. Blair, of Columbus, Miss., decided to increase his Life Insurance, and after carefully comparing propositions made by agents of a certain "Tontine" Company and the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, of Newark, N. J., he found that he could get from the latter company a policy of $5,000 on the 20 per cent. loan plan for an annual outlay of $97.15, while that amount in the "Tontine" Company would only pay for $3,320. He chose the Mutual Benefit's policy, with the understanding that if the dividends were not sufficient to entirely cover the 20 per cent. loan, there would be a small amount due in case of death. Mr. Blair died on July 1, 1898, and the statement from the company showed that there was only $18.37 of the 20 per cent. loan unpaid. In other words, the Company paid the beneficiary $4,981.63, while the "Tontine" Company would have only paid $3,320 for the same premium. Mr. Blair was only 37 years old.

SAD NEWS FOR MR. W. A. SANDERS.

Receives a Telegram Announcing the Death of His Brother.

Mr. W. A. Sanders, the Wrightsville Beach grocer, received a telegram yesterday, bringing him the sad news of the death of his brother, Mr. Luther Sanders, who died suddenly at his home in Philadelphia on Sunday night. He was quite a young man and his brother, who had not heard of his illness, was greatly shocked to hear that he was dead. The remains were expected to arrive at Beaufort, the former home of the deceased, last night, and Mr. Sanders left here yesterday afternoon via the W. & N. road to be present at the funeral obsequies, which will take place to-day.

TWO THINGS WE MUST HAVE.

The "great West," as it was once called, will continue to be mainly an agricultural section, depending chiefly, as it does now, on its wheat, corn, pork and beef. It has a surplus of all of these, for which a market must be found in other countries, and unless such market be found the men who produce the wheat and corn and raise the pork and beef will find little if any profit in the business. Years hence when our population reaches a hundred millions or more there may be a home demand for all the foodstuffs produced, but until then the foreign market will be necessary to the prosperity of the West.

The South will continue to be an agricultural section, but in addition is destined to become a great manufacturing section, probably in time the greatest in the country. She is not and possibly may never be much interested as a seller of foodstuffs beyond her own borders, but she is and always will be interested in the markets for cotton, both at home and abroad. The cotton-growing area of the world is, compared with other staple crops, limited, while the demand for cotton must, with the increasing population of the earth, continue to increase. But the possible cotton-producing area is not so limited that the Southern cotton-grower may not be forced to meet pretty lively competition in the European markets, where he now finds sale for a large part of his crop.

What proportions this competition may attain will depend very much on the ability of the Southern cotton grower to meet the foreign demand at prices the foreign manufacturers are willing to pay. While this is done this new competition may not develop very rapidly, but if the American crops should become so reduced by design or by climatic or other causes, which would make cotton scarce and consequently high, then we might look for a pretty rapid growth of that industry in the countries abroad adapted to it, especially in Southern Russia, to which considerable attention is already given to cotton culture, and where enough will be soon produced to supply the demand of the mills of that country.

The East will continue to be a manufacturing section because it has made a start in that and got a foothold. Its manufactories have given it most of its wealth; its people have made manufacturing industries a study and they have mastered them as well as any people in the world have. But they are confronted with competition from the South in some lines of manufactures, and will be in others, so that they will not have the easy run of the home market which they once had. This will make it necessary for them to look abroad and find markets in other sections for their goods produced in excess of the home demand, as they are doing now and have been doing for some years since they have begun to overstock the home market.

It has been satisfactorily demonstrated that in such goods as our manufacturers make they can, as to the cost of production, compete with the manufacturers of European countries, who are supposed to have the advantage of cheaper labor. But this advantage is more than offset by American machinery and skill, and the general tact for doing things quickly and well. Our manufacturers, like our wheat and corn growers and pork and beef raisers, and our cotton growers, have reached that point where foreign markets are absolutely necessary to their prosperity, and will become more so as manufacturing industries increase in the South. The time may come when with our increasing population it may not be so necessary, but it is now and will be for years to come.

Here we have the Western farmer and stock raiser, the Southern cotton planter and the American manufacturer, all compelled to meet foreign competition either present or prospective and the question is, how are they going to do it? Several of the leading European countries have strong and annually increasing merchant marines that give cheap transportation for their exportable products—agricultural and manufactured. Germany and Russia both have or are constructing canals to give shorter routes for their ships from their seas to the oceans, and Russia is building the mammoth railway of the globe to give her traders a speedy highway to the markets of Asia. This is one of the problems—cheap transportation—which confronts the American producer of cotton, foodstuffs, and of manufactured articles, and this problem must be satisfactorily solved before they can successfully meet the competition they will be forced to meet when the new territory in Southern Russia comes under cultivation, and the plans for quicker and cheaper transportation are carried out to completion.

How is this to be done? We must simply follow the example of our competing nations and in as far as we can give our producers of agricultural and manufactured articles all the advantage possible in shorter routes to foreign markets and better facilities for transportation. Our western lakes, where practicable, should have water connections with the sea so that a vessel loaded at a lake port could sail and without breaking cargo deliver it at its foreign destination.

The narrow neck of land at the isthmus of Darien should be cut, opening a way between the oceans, so that a ship loading for ports on the Western or Eastern shores of the Pacific, or for the countries lying within it, could pass through to their destination and not be forced to double the South American continent to do it, and sail three miles to cover one mile of distance by the shortest route. This would in a measure offset the canal schemes of Germany and Russia, and Russia's trans-Siberian railway.

If with this attention were turned in earnest to the building of an American merchant marine which would give the American shipper ships of his own and free him from dependence upon the ships of nations against whose shippers he must compete, he would then be able to more than hold his own against any present or prospective competition, from whatever source it might come.

But we must have short routes and ships of our own before we can count confidently upon that.

SQUASHING A LIE.

Some friend has sent us a copy of the Pittsburg, Pa., Chronicle, of 25th inst., which contains the following:

"The War Department has done a useful thing in publishing the status of the several States with respect to their response to the President's call for volunteers. Only five States have filled the requisition or exceeded the demand made, but most of the others are so near accomplishment that no invidious distinction can be made. The five honor States are Indiana, Minnesota, Missouri, New Jersey and Rhode Island. A strange fate has overtaken the State of North Carolina, which has only furnished 55 soldiers to meet its quota of 783. Colorado, Louisiana, Nebraska, Tennessee and Virginia have thus far supplied less than one-third of the number of men required of them.

"The regular army is still short by some 18,000 men, of the strength authorized by law, and it would appear proper that public effort might take hold of the fact and assist the officers detailed for recruiting persons."

This lie as to North Carolina has been extensively and repeatedly circulated on the authority of Adjutant General Corbin, who is either misinformed, or does not take the trouble to be sufficiently informed and therefore gives out inaccurate statements. As a matter of fact if all the volunteers had been accepted, who had offered their services and were qualified, North Carolina's quotas on both calls would have been largely overrun. If the announcement had not gone out from Raleigh that the first quota was full there would have been several more companies raised for which recruiting was going on when the announcement was made.

Governor Russell has been so busy manipulating county conventions &c., that he hasn't had time to give attention to such small matters as these lies about North Carolina, but he did take time a few days ago to wire the Associated Press that there was no truth in the statement that North Carolina was short on her calls, but that her "three regiments were organized promptly and large numbers have been offered in excess of quota." Perhaps if he had kept in as close communication with the War Department at Washington, as he has with his political strikers, it might not be so misinformed and would not have sent out such misleading statements.

Assistant Attorney General Boyd, who is a North Carolinian, got tired of the prominence that was being given to this lie, and in reply to a request for the facts received the following from Adjutant General Cowles, under date of 22d inst.:

"Hon. J. E. Boyd, Assistant Attorney General:

"Yours received. The facts are that under the first call we raised our quota, 2,205, which made the First and Second regiments and battalion of colored. Under second call our quota was 1,551. As the companies of troops under first call were organized on minimum of 80 and the United States desired the maximum of 106 men to a company, Gen. Corbin set aside 783 of our quota, with which to recruit, and ordered us to use the balance, 768, to make seven companies of colored infantry.

"We got this order June 23 and organized at once and added the seven to the three colored, making three regiments complete. Now we have used our part of the 783 to recruit the Second Regiment, and the First Regiment at Jacksonville has within seventy-five of its recruits. So you see under the second call we have raised 1,500 men. Under the second call 100 companies, of 10,000 men, volunteered as new organizations, with their own officers. Recruiting is always slow, as men go in as privates, with no prospect of being officers. I can raise twenty regiments, if necessary, in a week of new troops and with an unlimited quota we can furnish 100,000 in thirty days. We have been awfully and persistently lied on, and I believe studiously and maliciously, in Washington.

"A. D. COWLES,
"Adjutant General."

This ought to put a quietus on the talk of North Carolina's deficiency. But all of this suggests something on which we may remark later.

MINOR MENTION.

We do not see the People's Tribune, published at Wadesboro or thereabouts, but it is a sweet, innocent, unsophisticated little Trib. On being charged by the Messenger-Intelligencer with inconsistency in supporting Oliver H. Dockery for Congress it innocently replies, "Col. Dockery was on the People's party State ticket two years ago and we voted for him. Where does the change come in?" This breathes either the essence of unsophisticated childhood, the excuse of knavery, or the defence of idiocy. Logically it means that having voted for a man once there is no reason why we shouldn't keep on voting for him right along whatever office he might run for or whatever platform he might stand on. The candidate might change as much or as often as he pleased or as the emergencies of the office-hunter might suggest, but there would be no change in the voter. That is an entirely new feature in politics which the Tribune man with his sharp eye and astute intellect has discovered. According to this discovery platforms and principles do not figure in this business, and therefore Populists who two years ago supported and voted for Oliver Dockery after he had renounced his affiliation with the Republican party and declared his conversion to the Populist party can now consistently support and vote for him after he has repudiated them and gone back into the Republican party and climbed onto the gold standard platform which he vigorously denounced two years ago. O pshaw. This is entirely too thin for anything.

* * *

We have referred to the speech made by Congressman White (black) of the First District, in the late Republican convention at Raleigh. It was a highly colored speech, but it was also highly perfumed with an odorous morality which seemed to delight the constituency that White orated for and before. The following is a specimen whiff: "We immitate white men. You steal and so do we. You commit crimes and so do we." The truth of this statement will not be denied. Some white men—the exception—steal; and some white men commit other crimes; but all do not. Some negroes steal, and some commit other crimes; but all do not. It is not in the statement but in the application of the statement that the offence and immorality consist. It is virtually an apology for the stealing and other crimes committed by negroes, and a confession by their representative of a lack of moral control over themselves. They are proclaimed to be mere imitators of white men and must be bad if white men set them a bad example. This, coming from a mouthy representative like White is not saying much for the race, in whose behalf he insists the test with the white race must be made and who he contends are as much entitled to hold offices as white men are. By such an utterance White advertised his own moral caliber, and severely reflected upon the moral status of his race, which he thus publicly proclaimed mere imitators not of the best but of the worst element of the white race. It is no wonder that a respectable negro who heard the speech declared that he was ashamed of it, and that it made him almost ashamed of his race. He had much reason to be ashamed of White, who showed such a low estimate of the people for whom he stands as a champion.

Richards, land and immigration agent of the Southern Railway, in which Mr. Richards says he has a list of fourteen tenant farmers residing in the State of Ohio who he thinks he can interest in locating in the South, and he would like to make an effort to plant them around Statesville. Mr. Richards asks Mayor Harrill to send him a list of ten or twelve farms, not exceeding 100 acres each, which can be purchased at reasonable prices on easy terms.

— Roxboro Courier: On Sunday evening, July the 10th, Some one went into the residence of Charles H. Two negroes were suspected and traced to Durham, officers went over and caught them and brought them back to Roxboro. One of them, Jake Carter, confessed to getting the money, and is now in jail awaiting trial at Court. The other, Don Outlaw, was acquitted and turned lose. Mr. Clayton only got back about twenty dollars of his money.

Chronic Dyspepsia Cured.

AFTER suffering for nearly thirty years from dyspepsia, Mrs. H. E. Dugdale, wife of a prominent business man of Warsaw, N. Y., writes: "For 28 years, I was a constant sufferer from dyspepsia and a weak stomach. The lightest food produced distress, causing severe pain and the formation of gas. No matter how careful of my diet I suffered agonizing pain after eating. I was treated by many physicians and tried numerous remedies without permanent help. Two years ago I began taking Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills and Nervine. CURRENT COMMENT.

— If the American authorities want to bring the war in Cuba to a close let them cause to be distributed among the Spanish troops copies of the bill of fare furnished the prisoners at Portsmouth, and they will immediately surrender themselves in the hope of receiving similar treatment.—Augusta Chronicle, Dem.

— The task of cleansing Santiago and putting it in a sanitary condition will be almost as arduous and quite as dangerous as was the task of capture. Once deodorized and disinfected, it would be a lovely city, charmingly situated and readily kept in healthful condition. All that is needed is proper drainage and enforced cleanliness.—Philadelphia Record, Dem.

— There have been many brave adventures made by our men in Cuba, but Lieutenant Miley's start, with a single troop of cavalry, to ride all about the province of Santiago and receive the surrender of bodies of armed Spaniards, aggregating 10,000 in all, is not one of the least of them. It is taking great chances with Spanish treachery, and it will be more surprising if the lieutenant returns with his troops and prisoners than if neither he nor they ever come back alive.—Philadelphia Ledger, Ind.

AYLESBURY PRISON.

It Is the Only One England Has For Women Convicts.

England has only one prison for female convicts. It is now situated in Aylesbury, which for many years was the general prison for Buckinghamshire, though previous to November, 1896, the female prison had been at Woking for 28 years.

The change to Aylesbury was necessitated by the requirements of the war department, which took over the buildings at Woking and converted them into barracks. Neither the convicts nor the officials were particularly pleased at the removal, for the contrast between the two places was marked.

The discipline for the women is not as severe as in the men's prisons. In the latter absolutely no conversation is permitted, but at Aylesbury well behaved women are allowed an hour for conversation each day. In modern prison discipline, punishment plays a small part; in the women's prison corporal punishment does not exist.

The great hold of the prison officials over prisoners is obtained by the mark system. A prisoner is as keen on marks as a high school girl. By marks she can earn a higher class in prison, as well as the remission of a third part of her sentence. Thus a three years' penal sentence may be worked out in two years. This is called "earning the ticket." For the remaining year the prisoner out on her ticket has only to report herself every month at Scotland Yard.

Prisoners are classed as probationers, class 3, class 2 and class 1. Probationers have nine months of solitary work in their cells; the different classes have associated labor for the main part. The rules vary for exercise—an hour daily, except for class 1, which has 1½ hours. The diet, too, is different according to class, class 1 being the best. In class 2 prisoners have tea in the afternoon, but the doctor permits almost all the women prisoners to have tea and the two ounces of extra bread given with it. The doctor has the right of ordering them to the infirmary, where the diet is often generous, including such delicacies as chicken, stew, rissoles and coffee.

Several minor industries are carried on at Aylesbury. In a large workroom 30 women are employed in making suits for naval scholars at Greenwich, the suit consisting of blue serge blouse with large sailor collar and trousers. Other prisoners make suits of navy serge of excellent quality for the women warders. Others again work at making strong bags of stiff canvas for the postoffice. In the laundry a considerable number of women are employed. The prisoners are anxious to have their work admired.

Other industries, such as knitting stockings, hand sewed "liberty" shirts (to be worn by men set at liberty) and other garments, are carried on by the women in their cells. Naturally they much prefer associated labor, for the propinquity of fellow prisoners and the chance of a word to or from the matron about the work are blessings in prison life that are never despised. A small farm of two acres gives work to eight women. In many cases, open air work is more beneficial than any other, since it rebuilds the constitution and appears to work out a good deal of superfluous naughtiness.—New York Press.

CYCLING AND ASTHMA

A London Physician Says the Former Will Cure the Latter.

Dr. Marcet of London, recommends bicycle riding as a remedy for asthma. Here is what he says about it in a letter to The Medical Record: "If asthma is a form of mountain sickness and if that distressing affection of high altitudes can be cured by training for the exercise of climbing, why should not asthma also yield to the training of the respiration carried out by practicing the respiratory movements needed to carry the tidal air through the lungs? Of all means of training respiration I think cycling is the best. When a person first takes a cycling exercise, it will be found, especially on going up hill, that the breath is wanting, the heart beats uncomfortably and the legs tire, but after training these discomforts disappear, nothing will be thought of ascending hills, the heart has become perfectly comfortable, all breathlessness has disappeared and the legs will no longer feel any fatigue.

"Cycling exercise, first of all, increases the depth of breathing, and that without fatigue, as the respiratory movements are automatic. At the same time it will accustom the rider instinctively to take in at each respiration the volume of air required to aerate the blood. Persons who do not care for cycling out of doors can take the same kind of exercise at home by means of a dummy cycle, consisting of an iron wheel driven by pedals, the resistance of the wheel being so contrived as to simulate bicycle riding. A strap carried partly around the rim of the wheel can be tightened at will by the rider, thus increasing the labor and recalling the effort of riding up hill. My experience of the results of this treatment is unfortunately limited to only one person. In this case it has proved eminently successful. This person took to bicycle riding three years ago for pleasure and in very great moderation for the first two years. He observed that the attacks of asthma to which he was subject became fewer. The tightness and wheezing which occurred every night have now entirely disappeared."

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine, and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs are surely cured by it. Call on R. R. BELLAMY, druggist, and get a trial bottle free. Regular size 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed or price refunded. †

Persons troubled with diarrhœa will be interested in the experience of Mr. W. M. Bush, clerk of Hotel Dorrance, Providence, R. I. He says: "For several years I have been almost a constant sufferer from diarrhœa, the frequent attacks completely prostrating me and rendering me unfit for my duties at this hotel. About two years ago a travelling salesman kindly gave me a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy. Much to my surprise and delight its effects were immediate. Whenever I felt symptoms of the disease I would fortify myself against the attack with a few doses of this valuable remedy. The result has been very satisfactory and almost complete relief from the affliction." For sale by R. R. BELLAMY, druggist. †

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, July 25.—There was quite a stir in cotton futures this morning followed by a relapse. Cables were about as expected; crop news while somewhat conflicting, was generally favorable to the short interest. Most of to-day's trading was between room operators, although there was some investment buying during the morning and some buying for foreign account. The latter phases of the market indicated misgiving on the part of the longs. Liquidation was a feature. The market closed barely steady at a net loss of 25 points.

Alleged Gotham Dialect.

This contributor, however, is not deaf to the dialect of the born New Yorker. "The New York boy, city born and bred, can be detected in a moment by the peculiar way in which he pronounces the 'ur' sound in such words as 'birth,' 'bird,' 'earth' and 'heard.' * * * The queer little twists that enter so largely into the language in marring one of the cardinal sounds that compose it are thus expressed in Gotham tongues: 'Ur-yith' is how a New Yorker says 'earth;' 'hur-yid' for 'heard,' and 'mur-yid-der' for 'murder.' Those of us who were born in New York have heard the public schoolteacher insisting upon this peculiar twist. Most of us, too, have heard nice, careful little girls on the way home from school correcting careless companions by insisting that 'you mustn't say burd; you must say it nicely, bur-yid.' Dean Vaughan.

In speaking of the late Dean Vaughan of Llandaff The World of London says: "Mrs. Vaughan is probably the only person now living who could disclose the number of bishoprics which her husband refused between 1855 and 1863. Lord Palmerston is said to have at one time offered Dr. Vaughan every see which became vacant, and the queen and the prince consort were most anxious that he should accept a bishopric, and so also were divines of such very different church views as Archbishops Sumner, Longley and Tait, Bishops Wilberforce, Lonsdale and Hamilton, and Deans Milman, Wellesley and Stanley."

WONDERFUL TOUCH.

A Blind Man Who Works For a Blind Man and Does Good Work.

This is about a blind man who works for a man who is also blind and does work for which men who can see are well paid. The blind man who does the work does it as well as a man with eyes, and he never makes a mistake. He depends entirely on his sense of touch, which is extraordinarily well developed.

Away back in war times T. J. Lockwood went to the front. He was a good soldier until he lost his sight. A rifle ball put out one eye and the shock and concussion so affected the other that it was destroyed. Totally blind, Mr. Lockwood came back to his old home and for a time was discouraged. Then he decided that there were things that he could do to earn a livelihood. He set up a store and dealt in men's merchandise at Buda, Ills. Fate was kind to him at last and he prospered. Time went on, and his employees were faithful to the man who had lost his most precious sense while fighting for a most righteous cause.

The man who was the buyer for Mr. Lockwood was and is J. Oechsley. He worked for Mr. Lockwood for many years and was one of the most important of his employees. But one day misfortune came to him. Oddly enough, it struck at his eyes. He was laid low with a nervous affliction, and when he was able to be told of it the doctors announced to him that he was to go through life in the same condition as his employer. His sight was gone and never would be restored.

Finally Mr. Oechsley was able to leave his room. He was not rich, and the illness had made a deep hole in his store of savings. The old problem of keeping the wolf from the door was to be met once more, but this time under a terrible handicap. In the hour of his most trying experience his old employer came to him, and the men went to the old store. Mr. Oechsley knew the place by heart. He was at home there, even if he could not see, and as the days went on he realized that all was not gone even if his sight was lost. He found that he could tell as of old the differences that lie in materials.

His hands seemed to have been given an extra share of cunning and in a measure became his sight. He practiced and grew more expert. His whole energy was thrown into the work he had put himself to do, and in a short time it was found that as a buyer of goods he was almost as good as before the calamity overtook him.

The merchants and jobbers with whom Mr. Oechsley deals know him. They would not take advantage of him even if they could, and they all admit that they could not if they would. The hands of this man are as good and even better in their way than the eyes of most men. He tells all about a piece of goods, no matter what it is, by feeling the texture and finish. He is considered to be a first class buyer, and when merchants say this of him they add that they do not take into consideration the fact that he is blind in passing their judgment of his ability.

The other blind man—the employer—is thoroughly satisfied with the work done by the one who sees with his hands. The store is prospering, and the men who play the biggest part in it are happy.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Why Wales Is Sad.

It is said in London that the Prince of Wales has been profoundly depressed ever since the death of Prince Henry of Battenberg, and a queer story is offered in explanation of it. This is to the effect that the two princes had their fortunes told by a gypsy some years ago. The Prince of Wales was informed that he would never be king of England, and Henry that he would die seeking glory under a tropic sky.

Codfish Head.

The head of fresh codfish is in European countries esteemed as a delicacy. It is boiled in salted water until tender and served with a white sauce seasoned with salt and pepper, capers, small chopped cucumber pickles or chopped peppers that have been pickled. If the flavor of onion is liked, add to the seasoning a temperate quantity of onion juice.

THE THIEF.

At that time I was engaged, and very pleased to be, to a most enigmatical young person. She spoke rarely and in a way always a little mysterious, making voluptuarily secrets of a hundred little actions of life and loving solitude in an alarming manner.

All this was offset by eyes so beautiful, by a coloring so marvelous, by an expression so divine that I had not the courage to reflect on the singularity of her character. I loved her, and I often passed hours of the night sitting before her doorstep, simply dreaming "that she lived there" and meditating on her presence as does the believer on the transubstantiation.

I did not know, in the first place, whether she loved me or not; she always refused to answer that question, referring to the wishes of her parents and her confidence in their wisdom. If I insisted, she generally ended by saying "that she knew nothing about it, but that she felt no antipathy toward me, and that, according to her ideas, was enough to decide a young girl on marriage." In vain I supplicated, in vain I tried to animate this enigmatical being. She remained as distant as the manner in which she loved, as unknown as she was dominating.

One evening as I was dreaming a little sadly of these things alone on the terrace of the Syrtes a commotion was heard in the house. I returned to the salon, where everything was in disorder, my hosts were distressed, their friends embarrassed and troubled and old Mme. Desparcs horribly pale and trembling.

"What in the world has happened?" I asked. They explained incoherently that Mme. Desparcs' diamonds were stolen—old family diamonds of great value. All the servants had been summoned into an adjoining room—in short, a formal search was to be instituted. An old gentleman, M. de la Hestre, had been unanimously selected to direct this investigation just as I was entering, and his first proposition was that every one submit, or rather offer himself, to be searched. Although the thing was rather offensive no one protested, and it was decided that, after the servants, each one present should be examined.

To tell the truth, all this seemed of small importance beside my personal cares, and with several others I waited the end of the adventure, while M. de la Hestre, his two witnesses and our host began the inspection of the domestics.

Very soon I fell again into my meditation, my eyes fixed on the fireplace, as though there were a fire, when suddenly I felt a touch on my elbow. I raised my head with a start, to see my fiancee looking at me most beseechingly. We were alone near the fireside and could talk in low tones without being overheard. She murmured very low:

"If you love me, arrange that they search you first; then try to be near me, and, without being seen, try to conceal the object that I shall pass you from behind."

My blood ran cold. This annoying incident became terrible, filling me with the most passionate trouble. I looked at the girl in agony, but forced myself to smile and whispered:

"It shall be done as you wish."

My knees trembled; my mouth was dry and hot. The feeling that overwhelmed me was inexpressible. It was a strange mingling of bitterness and pleasure that my loved one should be weak to such a degree. I forced myself to have a sort of disdainful pity, and in reality love beat ardent, strong, stern, in my breast. I understood in a flash how beauty could become divine above baseness of soul, how one could respect it even in dishonor and a hundred other things in which were confused, fervent love, devotion without limit, a desire noble and perverse.

Jeanne had thanked me with a hardly perceptible movement of the lips; she stood by the wall with an air of indifference and pride.

"They are very long about it!" she said suddenly. "M. de la Hester is a man of method," some one replied, and a silence followed which told more and more on one's nerves, for even the waiting in a peaceful frame of mind finishes by disturbing and emptying the brain like a pump. However, the moment arrived when, the searching of the servants ended, the door opened, disclosing our host, the two witnesses and the old gentleman.

My heart beat furiously. I felt myself become terribly pale; but, concealing my agitation and steadying my voice, I asked to be searched first.

M. de la Hestre smiled at what he considered the whim of a young man and proceeded methodically to my examination. I blushed, I became pale, without any one finding that peculiar under the circumstances. When it was over, I made two or three steps backward and I found myself near Jeanne. She lowered her fan and handed me something with a coolness that was only equaled by my calmness in seizing the object and placing it in a pocket of my coat. After which I leaned against the fireplace, being now merely a witness and above all suspicion.

M. de la Hestre's search was unproductive of results. There remained nothing to do but to visit all the rooms and then inform the police.

Still my trouble of mind increased as I remained standing by the fireplace. My brain was in a whirl, and I felt the crime weigh on me as though I were indeed the thief.

Jeanne at last came toward me with that undulating step of hers and gave me a look of such passionate gratitude that it almost seemed to scorch me. Then in an imperative low tone she said:

"Do you still love me?"

I did not hesitate. I replied firmly:

"Yes."

"In spite of all that I have done?"

"In spite of everything."

"Will you marry me?"

"I will marry you."

She enveloped me with the same look, still warmer and more lingering. I fully comprehend the power of woman above all law, human or natural, drawn from the fountain head and against which nothing ought to prevail.

I felt strangely happy in this equivocal adventure, and could not throw off this happiness for which I reproached myself and of which I was terribly ashamed.

As I was struggling with these contending emotions exclamations were heard, and I saw M. de la Hestre reappear holding a little box.

"We have the jewels and the guilty one," he said very calmly.

I had only time to hear this much and to see the livid face of the valet—the guilty one—when I found that Jeanne was gently urging me out into the terrace where the shadows lay thickly. There I felt my head seized with two hands, while two pure lips were pressed to mine as Jeanne murmured:

"The thief adores you."—From the French For Short Stories.

Wood Engraving.

There seems to be some hope for wood engravers looming in the distance and from that quarter from which it was least expected. Their chief complaint has been that the photographer has ruined their craft. This is true in a sense, as without the photographer the process reproducer is nowhere. But with the multiplication of process blocks has come a desire, in some artistic quarters, to improve such process block, and so the wood engraver has been called in. This has been done for some time past in America with a fair measure of success. Any one who has taken the trouble to look at the results obtained on the printing press from a tone block, even when it has been carefully burnished and retouched, and from a tone block which has been worked upon by a skilful wood engraver must have been struck by the great difference in the results obtained. The wood engraver, then, may, after all, regain something of his lost position with those who love first class work and will perhaps cease reviling the inoffensive camera worker.—Amateur Photographer.

The Next Royal Wedding.

The marriage of Princess Maud of Wales and Prince Charles of Denmark is to take place at the Chapel Royal, St. James palace, early in July, and the arrangements will be much the same as on the occasion of the wedding of the Duke and Duchess of York, with a carriage procession from Buckingham palace, and a luncheon there after the ceremony. The honeymoon will be passed at Sandringham.

Finding the Innocent.

"No," said the soap fakir to a group of people that had gathered around him, "there is no use talking to me about the innocence of the countryman. He may buy a gold brick occasionally or sign a blank check and lose his farm, but as a rule he can take care of himself just as well as the next one and generally a little better. If I knew as much as some farmers, I wouldn't be in this business, and you can gamble on that.

"Why, say, do you know what happened to me the last time I was down in the country? I got pinched, that's what I done. I got my satchel out in front of the hotel in a little town about 30 miles out east here and began to do a few tricks to draw a crowd.

"After I'd made an egg disappear and pulled a few knots open for them I says: 'Now, gentlemen, I'm going to show you a trick that nobody else on earth has ever attempted. You see my hat here? Well, we'll imagine for the time being that it's a flowerpot. Out of this hat I'm going to make a bush grow up, and when I've done that I'll make every leaf on it turn into a $5 note.'

"What? Did I do it? Of course I did! But, say, do you know what come of it? Blamed if they didn't arrest me and fine me $15 for raising bills, which the justice of the peace said was 'contrary to the statoots made and provided.'

"Well, I sort of had a hankering to know whether they done it in good faith or just because they thought I was easy picking, and what do you think I found out? Why, the people of that town hadn't paid any taxes for eight years. They'd actually been running things by plucking just such innocent fellows as me.

"Now, gentlemen, there's a $1 bill in one of these little packages. Who will give me 10 cents for the first choice?"—Cleveland Leader.

Read Carefully what the Rev. Dr. C. S. Blackwell, Corresponding Secretary of the Baptist Young People's Union of the South, says:

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 12, 1897.

H. E. Thompson, Providential, N. C.:

DEAR SIR:—A month ago you sent me a box of the Jackson Springs Water—twelve bottles. You know how fearfully I was suffering with an acute bladder trouble some weeks before. When I reached home I found the water awaiting me. I have rested and drank that water. I am a new man—my old self practically; my appetite restored; and the tenderness in the bladder has disappeared. I think it is a wonderful water. I had been using for weeks before all sorts of lithia water, but the Jackson Springs Water went to the spot.

With profound gratitude, I am,

Yours. Respectfully, &c.,

CALVIN S. BLACKWELL.

The Doctor further says, it is "the best, I think, God has let run out of the earth for afflicted humanity."

This Water is unsurpassed for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Insomnia, Nervous Prostration, or any Kidney, Bladder or Stomach Trouble.

Packed for Shipping.

This valuable Water is packed for shipping purposes, one dozen half-gallon bottles to the case. It has permanently cured hundreds who have found it inconvenient to visit the Springs.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 26, 1898.

THE CRISTOBAL COLON.

Lieutenant Hobson Making Arrangements to Raise the Sunken Spanish Warship.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Lieut. Richmond P. Hobson arrived in New York to-day from Washington and after consulting with the officials of the Merritt & Chapman Wrecking and Dock Co. announced that that company had consented to undertake the rescue of the Cristobal Colon and was making an effort to begin the work as soon as possible.

"The difficulty of saving the Colon," said he, "lies in the complete submergence, upon her beam ends of a steamer of 7,000 tons. Only a short portion of her stem is clear of water, which fills her whole interior. Her sea-valves are open and her sides are in a few places perforated by shells. The beach upon which she lies is exceedingly shelving, forming a part, in fact, of the mountain which there rises out of the sea and towers aloft. In short all the conditions are present which render the righting and raising of the ship an engineering feat of large proportions. At the same time, it is simple and quite feasible. No new appliances are needed, nothing has to be invented; it is simply a question of getting to the spot in time with the accepted means and methods on a sufficient scale."

As to the plan for raising the Colon, Lieut. Hobson said:

"We will run the pontoons alongside of the Colon, submerge them, and after chains under the bottom of the ship have been fastened to the pontoons and tightened the pontoons will be pumped out. At the same time we will use air-pumps in trying to force the water out of her air-chambers and water-tight compartments. If many of these compartments are found to be in good condition, this combined pressure from the outside and the inside will be sufficient to raise the Colon several feet. If they are not sufficient, then air-bags will be put in her hold and inflated by compressed air. Every time the ship is raised a few feet from the bottom she will be towed further in shore, so that after several easy stages she will be high enough out of the water to make all the necessary repairs. It is thought that her hull is not in a leaky condition, but that it was the opening of the sea-valves by the Spaniards which sank the ship, after they saw it was impossible to get away. If that is found to be the case, the Colon may be quickly towed to a dry dock in this country for permanent overhauling.

"I think it will be fully two weeks before the work of raising the Colon begins. As to when it can be finished will depend largely on the smoothness of the water. Pontoons cannot be worked in rough water. Fortunately for us the weather has been propitious thus far and it is our hope that it will continue until the Colon is high and safe on the beach."

Lieut. Hobson went over to Glen Ridge, N. J., this afternoon and lunched with Mrs. Sampson, wife of Rear Admiral Sampson. Constructor Hobson bore special messages to Mrs. Sampson from the Admiral.

STARVING CUBANS.

A Pitiful Appeal by the People of Cienfugeos, Cuba, to Rear Admiral Sampson.

[Copyrighted 1898 by the Associated Press.

GUANTANAMO BAY, July 25, 11 A. M.—The following pitiful appeal has been addressed by the starving people of Cienfuegos to Rear Admiral Sampson:

"Honorable Sir—The Cubans—old men, women and children—resident in the town of Cienfuegos and this neighborhood, are all dying of hunger. The young men are all in the field with the Cuban troops and have not shoes, neither food. All the provisions in this town are in the hands of Spaniards. Cubans cannot obtain a piece of bread, as it is necessary to send everything to the field. The Weyler system is in the way. The situation is terrible. If you, honorable sir, do not come quick with your squadron to our help and take possession of this town we shall be lost. We beg you to precipitate your operation. About five thousand old men, women and children shall die of hunger in this town. Some of these old men have four or five sons fighting for freedom. If the great people of the United States do not come quick to our help we are lost. For God's sake come quick.

[Signed] "SOME CUBANS."

Nothing can be done for the people of Cienfuegos until that place is captured. This will not be for some time.

New York Forfeited Game.

NEW YORK, July 25.—New York to-day forfeited the game to the Baltimores after half of the fourth inning had been played. The score was at that time 1 to 1, Holmes, when at bat in Baltimore's inning struckout. A "fan" in the grand yelled:

"Oh, Ducky, You're a lobster."

"Well, I'm glad I'm not working for a Sheeney any more," replied Holmes.

Umpire Lynch turned around and said something to Holmes, who went to the bench.

President Freedman, who was sitting on the grand stand, sent a representative down with a request that Manager Hanlon take Holmes out of the game, Hanlon referred Freedman's representative to the umpire, who said he had not heard the remark, and refused to take Holmes out of the game. Freedman then came on the grounds and asked for the expulsion of the player, and on being refused, told Joyce not to play ball. Lynch then gave the game to the Baltimores, nine to nothing.

President Freedman stated afterward that he would protest the game and that he would report Holmes to the board of discipline. He also said that people had been crying for gentlemanly ball playing, and they should get it on the New York grounds at any rate.

THE EXPEDITION TO PORTO RICO.

Expected That all the Troops Will be Landed Within a Week at the Latest.

TROOPS STILL EMBARKING.

Admiral Sampson's Report Received by the Navy Department—Resolutions of Congress Transmitted to Admiral Dewey.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The War Department was busied to-day hurrying the dispatch of the remainder of the Miles expedition against Porto Rico. Such progress has been made that it is hoped that all of the troops will be on Porto Rican soil within a week at the latest. General Miles is not expected to defer his landing until that time, but presumably will pick out a suitable place for encamping his troops and establish himself ashore awaiting the arrival of the ther detachments now on their way. War Department officials expect that the first news received from General Miles will come through the press dispatches, as the general has not with him so far as known, any dispatch boats. It will be at leat Saturday before direct cable communication can be established with him and in the meantime reliance must be had on the press boats running across to St. Thomas, distant about four hour run. It was expected at the department that Gen. Brooke and Gen. Haines would sail to-day from Newport News to join Miles and that most of Gen. Brooke's command would be embarked by Wednesday. The work of embarkation at Newport News is being conducted with much less difficulty and delay than was expected. Col. Hecker, in charge of the transportation division of the War Department, who has just returned from that place, has reported to Secretary Alger that it is eminently suited to the shipment for troops. Consequently the secretary to-day ordered all of Gen. Grant's brigade, 3,000 men, from Chickamauga to Newport News. It is not expected that all of the transports required for their accommodation will have arrived there by the time the soldiers get in, but they will encamp on suitable ground there and it is believed will be benefitted by the change from Chickamauga.

The Signal service has succeeded in reclaiming from the battle-fields of Santiago the tubes which supplied the military balloon with pure hydrogen gas, and they, with the balloon itself, have been brought over to Tampa on the steamer Adria. The tubes will be recharged immediately and the whole apparatus will be dispatched at once to Porto Rico to assist Gen. Miles in his campaign there. The balloon is said to have proved of great value in the Santiago campaign, and from the character of the country in Porto Rico where the military operations must be conducted it is believed that it can be used to advantage there.

Admiral Sampson's Report.

It was announced to-day at the Navy Department that the long expected report from Admiral Sampson upon the destruction of Cervera's fleet, with the accompanying reports of the commodore and captains of his squadron, had reached the department. It is supposed to have been brought by Captain Sigsbee, on the St. Paul, which arrived at New York last Friday, and to have been sent by mail by Captain Sigsbee. It is the intention of the Secretary of the Navy to give these reports to the public in their entirety. They will be given out for publication Wednesday morning.

Admiral Dewey.

Secretary Long to-day forwarded to Admiral Dewey the joint resolution of Congress extending the thanks of Congress for the victory achieved at Cavite. The resolution was beautifully engrossed and prefaced by a formal attestation of its authenticity by Secretary of State Day, the whole being enclosed in a highly gilt Russia leather case. It is to be remarked that Secretary Long in his letter of transmittal makes reference to a letter from the Secretary of State complimenting Admiral Dewey upon his direction of affairs since the great naval victory, a formal evidence that the State Department is thoroughly well satisfied with the diplomatic qualities he has exhibited. The letter of Secretary Long is as follows:

"Navy Department, Washington, D. C., July 25, 1898.—Sir: The department has received from the Secretary of State an engrossed and certified copy of a joint resolution of Congress, tendering the thanks of Congress to you, and the officers and men of the squadron under your command, for transmission to you, and herewith enclose the same.

"Accompanying the copy of the joint resolution the department received a letter from the Secretary of State requesting that there be conveyed to you his appreciation of your character as a naval officer, and of the good judgment and prudence you have shown in directing affairs since the date of your great achievement in destroying the Spanish fleet. This I take great pleasure in doing, and join most heartily, on behalf of the Navy Department, as well as personally, in the commendation of the Secretary of States.

Very respectfully,

"JOHN D. LONG, Secretary.

"Rear Admiral George Dewey, United States Navy, Commander-in-Chief of United States Naval Force, Asiatic Squadron.

The Spanish Prisoners,

The War Department has received a letter from a New York attorney, representing J. L. St. John, protesting against the award for transporting the Spanish prisoners in Spanish ships. In addition to the claims that have been made in this matter heretofore he alleged that his client had not been heard respecting a bid which he had put in. Col. Hecker replied to the attorney to-day, saying that Mr. St. John's bid was upon a letter denoting him a paper manufacturer and Mr. St. John had not responded to a telegram requesting his presence in Washington, save by a letter saying that he was glad that the contract had been placed so advantageously to the government. Col. Hecker also said that the department was fully advised as to the location of the Spanish ships before the contract was made.

Probably before the end of the week the Spanish company will commence the discharge of its obligation and have shipped from Santiago at least 10,000 of the Spanish soldiers on the long voyage to Spain.

Word came to the War Department to-day, through the medium of the United States consul at Fort De France, Island of Martinique, that the Spanish steamship Alicante, which has been lying there for several weeks, was about to sail for Santiago to ship some of the prisoners. She is due to arrive there about Thursday morning.

The Disposition of Shafter's Army.

Rumors of various kinds have been in circulation as to the disposition of Gen. Shafter's army, but the War Department has not come to any conclusion as yet in the matter. A sufficient force is to be kept at Santiago to maintain the position the United States has taken and to preserve order. While there is yellow fever infection in the army, no attempt will be made to bring the troops to the United States. The War Department, it may be stated, is now bending every effort to secure for Gen. Shafter's army an ample supply of nutritious food, and also will see that the soldiers have a rest and careful attention, so they may get in the very best condition The medical corps is now making a careful examination of the army with a view of advising the department as to the best methods of restoring the sick to health and preventing any further spread of disease. It is not believed at the department that any large number of troops will be necessary at Santiago after the Spanish prisoners have been deported.

ARRIVALS FROM SANTIAGO.

The Transport Hudson at Newport News and the Aransas at Tampa With Yellow Fever Cases on Board.

By Telegragh to the Morning Star.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., July 25.—The transport Hudson from Santiago arrived in Hampton Roads at noon to-day. From the foremast floated a yellow flag indicating sickness aboard. Dr. Pettus, the national quarantine officer, boarded the vessel just as she cast anchor. He remained on the vessel for some time, and when he came ashore it was learned that he did not feel justified in permitting those on board to land. The Hudson is understood to carry a number of sick and wounded soldiers from Santiago. The bodies of Capt. Capron and Lieut. Hamilton Fish are on the ship en route North for interment. It is said that Sylvester Scovel, the New York newspaper correspondent who was ordered from Cuba because of insulting conduct towards Gen. Shafter, is also aboard.

TAMPA, FLA., July 25.—The transport Aransas arrived at quarantine today and will be held. The Aransas has on board sixty-four people and on the trip from Santiago several cases of yellow fever developed. She was held at the quarantine station at Mullet Key, and Dr. Glennan, of the Marine Hospital Service, who is in charge here, went down at once and ordered that the boat be held indefinitely. Col. Astor is one of the parties on board the Aransas, and he has important dispatches for the Secretary of War, which he has orders to deliver in person, but he will be held until all danger is over.

THE CARLIST MOVEMENT.

Leaders Left Madrid Because They Feared Arrest.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

MADRID, July 25, Midnight.—The government professes to have full information as to all the Carlists' doings and is acting accordingly. The Carlist leaders, it is believed, left Madrid because they feared arrest rather than with the idea of preparing a rising. The authorities assert that the agitation has been effectively checked. Vasco, the Carlist chief at Bilboa, has been arrested. The exodus of Carlists from the northern provinces of Spain into France is extremely active.

LONDON, July 26.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily News says: "The prefect of the lower Pyrenees reports a Carlist exodus from Spain, Saint Jean De Luz, Bayonne, and Biarritz are alive with Carlists. The prefects of the Pyrenees have been ordered to place certain Carlists under surveillance and to notify the French government if any organization for moving arms or ammunition is discovered."

REMARKABLE DEMONSTRATION.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 25.—It was learned to-day that a remarkable demonstration occurred Saturday evening at Camp Long, on Seavey's Island where the captured sailors of Admiral Cervera's fleet are confined. As the United States gunboat Frolic passed the island on her way to Cuba, hundreds of the prisoners greeted the vessel with cheers and waving of hands. The ovation took the Americans by surprise. The outburst was regarded by those in charge of the camp as a result of the good treatment received here by the Spaniards who took this method of expressing their gratitude.

Surgeon McPherson said to-day that the condition of the prisoners in the hospital showed a marked improvement.

INTERNATIONAL COMPLICATIONS.

Japanese Warships Ordered to Co-operate With the British and Americans.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, July 15.—A special dispatch from Shanghai says four Russian men-of-war have left Port Arthur and it is supposed their destination is the Philippine Islands.

Another special dispatch from Shanghai, says the Japanese warships Woshino, Chinyen. Itsukushima, and Saiyen, have been hastily dispatched to Saiseho to reinforce the Japanese squadron there, making it the strongest in those waters. It has been ordered to co-operate with the British and American admirals in the event of international complications.

While the dispatch does not explain the matter, it is inferred the squadron is desired to be in readiness for Philippine operations.

THE FIGHT A DRAW.

Twenty-five Round Bout Between McPartland and Jack Everhardt.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, July 25.—"Kid" McPartland, of New York, and "Jack" Everhardt, of New Orleans, fought twenty-five rounds to-night at the Greater New York Athletic Club, Coney Island, and at the end of the fight both men were well able to go several rounds more. Referee Sam Austin satisfied every one by declaring the bout a draw. This is the third time these men have met and to-night's contest leaves the question of supremacy between the two men to be settled at some future time.

GUANTANAMO SURRENDERS.

Seven Thousand Spanish Soldiers at That Place Laid Down Their Arms.

OTHER FORCES CAPITULATE.

Forty Political Prisoners Released From the Jail in Santiago—Many Others Still Confined—Yellow Fever Epidemic in Guantanamo.

[Copyrighted 1898 by the Associated Press.]

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, July 25.—Everything here is peaceful. The 7,000 Spanish soldiers at Guantanamo laid down their arms to-day. The 3,350 from Palma, Soriano, San Luis and Longo surrendered yesterday to Lieut. Miley, and to-day pack trains with provisions were sent them. The only others included in the capitulation are 2,000 troops at Baracao and 1,000 at Sagua. They have not been turned over, but they are now here in Gen. Garcia's vicinity. He is at Jiguany today and reached there without encountering any Spaninrds.

Gen. Shafter authorizes an absolute contradiction of the report that Garcia encountered a force of Spaniards who were returning to Santiago to surrender and was defeated by them.

Col. Ezra P. Ewers, of the Ninth infantry, acting for Gen. Shafter, will receive the formal surrender of Guantanamo.

Imprisoned Cubans Released.

Yesterday Gen. Shafter released forty Cubans who had been confined in the local jail on political charges. Indeed, some of them were confined without charges of any character, others on the most trivial pretexts, and yet others solely because of sympathy with the insurgent cause. The jail is still filled with many whose crimes and sentences are not on record, and are absolutely unknown, so far as has yet been ascertained. A general investigation has been ordered immediately.

American newspapers, which have arrived here, contain articles written apparently under a misapprehension of the facts regarding the

and the dictation of the terms of surrender. Gen. Miles was here simply as a visitor and adviser. In his official capacity he had nothing to do with the terms of the capitulation, the entire credit for which belongs to Gen. Shafter, who on July 10th received the following dispatch from Washington, of that date:

"Gen. Shafter, Siboney—The Secretary of War directs me to inform you that Gen. Miles left here at 10:40 last night for Santiago, but with instructions which do not in any manner supersede you as the commander of the United States troops in the field near Santiago so long as you are able for duty.

Adjutant General."

Famine and Yellow Fever.

GUANTANAMO HARBOR, Sunday evening, July 17.—The correspondent was informed to-night that this morning the Spaniards at and near Cimanera fired on a steam launch, which, with its companions, constatly patrols the entrance to the lower bay. This hostile act was something of a surprise, because the troops under Perez had been informed the day before that Santiago was to surrender formally at noon to-day and that he and his troops were included in those who must lay down their arms and return to Spain.

To grim famine in Guantanamo city and its environs is added the ravages of yellow fever, which seems to be much more virulent in type than it is further westward. Deaths from yellow jack average fifteen per day. This report is official from Perez himself. A strict military quarantine is observed here and Commander McCalla of the Marblehead is infinitely more strict than any health officer the States can boast.

Gen. Miles who came here on the Yale yesterday was not allowed to land until he showed a medical certificate to the effect that immediately after his visit to the Santiago army his person and his apparel had been fumigated. The general has gone so far as to sacrifice his mustache to the exigiencies of the occasion.

TROOPS FOR PORTO RICO.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEWPORT NEWS, July 25.—In-coming trains during the last thirty-six hours have brought nearly 6,000 troops to the city. This includes the Second brigade of the First Army Corps in command of Brigadier General Haines, from Chickamauga Park, Tenn., and five troops of cavalry from Camp Alger.

The first train reached the city at noon Sunday and from that time until late yesterday afternoon section followed section. The trains stopped within a few hundred yards of the camp grounds and as fast as the troops arrived they marched to the grounds where they pitched dog tents and made themselves comfortable.

Major General Brooke's special train, which left Chickamauga Sunday afternoon with the commander of the First Army Corps and his staff, pulled in at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon and Gen. Brooke immediately repaired to the Warwick Hotel, where he will remain till he sails for Porto Rico on the auxiliary cruiser St. Louis.

Gen. Haines' brigade will begin to embark early to-morrow morning. The transports Massachusetts, Roumania and City of Washington are now at the piers taking on provisions. The auxiliary cruiser St. Paul is expected to come up Hampton Roads to-morrow morning, and it is probable that the vessel will sail in the afternoon with Gen. Brooke and his staff and 1,300 troops. The St. Paul is expected to steam into port to-morrow morning from New York. She will also take on troops and provisions.

FROM THE KLONDIKE.

Steamer With Passengers and Over $1,000,000 in Gold Arrives at Seattle.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

SEATTLE, WASH., July 25.—The steamer Charles Nelson arrived here to-day from St. Michaels with 173 passengers from Dawson and gold dust estimated all the way frm $1,000,000 to $1,500,000. When the Nelson left St. Michaels, twenty-six vessels were there. Nine river steamers loaded to the guards had started up the river. There is a large amount of merchandise at St. Michaels, which will insure plenty of food next winter if it can be gotten up before ice closes navigation.

SPAIN HOPEFUL AND DEFIANT.

Has Made No Approach for Peace and Does Not Mean to Yet Awhile.

THE WAR WILL CONTINUE.

The Government Seeking to Organize European Concert Against the United States—The Pope Suggests Peace Terms.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

MADRID, July 25, 11 P. M.—A private dispatch from San Juan de Porto Rico says a strong American squadron has appeared before Bahia Honda, but that the American attempt to disembark was repulsed with considerable loss.

It is announced to-night that complete tranquility prevails throughout Spain.

The Cuban colonial government, it is also announced, will confer with the representatives of Maximo Gomez, and it is believed that the conference may result in the insurgents espousing the Spanish cause.

Proposes an Armistice.

LONDON, July 25.—It is announced in a special dispatch from Madrid, published here this afternoon, that the Spanish government has drawn up a message, addressed to the Government at Washington, proposing an armistice for the purpose of discussing the terms upon which peace with the United States can be arranged.

MADRID, July 25, 10 A. M.—According to a dispatch from Cadiz to the Imparcial of this city, advices from Tangier say the foreign minister of Morrocco declares that if the Americans enter Morroccan ports they will be notified to leave in twenty-four hours, and, it is added, if they refuse to do so Morocco will place herself under the protection of the powers. The peace probabilities are anxiously canvassed at Tangier since the arrival there of the new United States consul, and the special dispatch adds, the belief increases that the United States does not intend to deprive Spain of anything but the Antilles.

The Pope Interferes.

LONDON, July 25.—A special dispatch from Rome says the Pope has communicated to the powers peace proposals that he considers acceptable to both Spain and the United States; namely, American annexation of Cuba and Porto Rico, the restitution of the Philippines to Spain and a commercial treaty giving Spain exceptional advantages in the colonies surrendered.

Spain Still Hopeful.

LONDON, July 26.—The Daily Chronicle this morning claims to know positively that no peace negotiations of any sort have occurred between the American and Spanish governments. The Daily Chronicle says:

"Spain has made no approach and apparently does not mean to yet. It is understood that the Spanish government is still hopeful of organizing a European concert against the United States."

The War Will Continue.

LONDON, July 26.—The Madrid correspondent of the Standard says:

"There is still an endeavor to keep alive the impression that something is going on behind the scenes in the direction of peace, but the prevalent idea is that the war will continue until the fall of Manila and the invasion of Porto Rico. A cabinet crisis has been averted for the time being.

"Those who succeed the present cabinet will certainly be obliged ere long to ask the country to submit terms profoundly repugnant to the national pride. The prospect of intermediary cabinets is marred by the loyal and correct attitude of Gen. Polavieja, who declines to become the instrument of politicians eager to create a third party."

Carlist Activity.

LONDON, July 26.—The Madrid correspondent of the Times, noting the great increase in Carlist activity, says:

"On the other hand some influential Carlists repudiate any agitation, and the best authorities in the Monarchical parties are also of the opinion that there is no danger of a rising at present, since few Spaniards are willing to increase the nation's calamities by plunging the country into the horrors of civil war."

LONDON, July 25.—The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: "An American lady, said to be Commodore Schley's daughter, has arrived here, but neither the Queen Regent nor any responsible personage will receive her. She will probably be requested to depart at the earliest date."

[Presumably the American lady referred to is Miss Jessie Schley, daughter of Mr. Charles Schley, of Milwaukee, a cousin of Commodore Schley.]

GERMAN SKIPPER INDIGNANT.

His Vessel Was Held Up by a Blockading Ship Off Porto Rico.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

ST. THOMAS, D. W. I., July 25.—Thos. Lotz, of the German steamer Croatia which arrived here yesterday and reported having been fired upon three times off San Juan de Porto Rico on Saturday night by an American warship, understood to be the United States cruiser New Orleans, was quoted in an interview to-day as saying that the first solid shot fell within twenty yards of the ship. The steamer was immediately stopped, but her captain adds that two more shots were fired over the Croatia's bows from close range. Later, an officer from the New Orleans boarded the Croatia and asked if the ship was injured. Capt. Lotz was highly indignant at being fired upon, as he considered his ship was outside the blockading zone.

The French gunboat Fulton arrived here to-day. She is going in search of the French line steamer Olinde Rodriguez, which was captured by a United States warship and taken to Charleston, S. C., while on a voyage from Hayti to St. Thomas, with passengers, mails, etc.

INFERNAL MACHINE FOUND.

Arranged to Blow up the U. S. Supply Ship Port Victor, But Proved a Complete Failure.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, July 25.—In a letter to a prominent officer here, Capt. William C. Brickley, of the refrigerating and supply ship Port Victor, says that an attempt was made to blow up the ship when she was three days out. He said that a box containing thirty pounds of dynamite and gun cotton was found, without any address, on the main deck of the steamer. A clock-like mechanism had been arranged by which the explosives were to be set off.

The Port Victor left New York, July 14. The box was made of 2½-inch lumber and was jointed and grooved. It was 18 inches high, 20 inches wide and nine feet long.

When the box was opened another box made of the same kind of lumber and nearly as large, was found inside. This was opened and inside were found the dynamite and gun cotton. The upper part of the inside of the box was lined with numerous wires connected with a clock-like mechanism, as described by the captain's letter, though the letter did not state at what time the mechanism had been set to be exploded. Capt. Brickley wrote that he and the steward threw the box overboard. They did not inform any one else on the ship of the occurrence, with the exception of an expert officer, who examined the machine for Capt. Brickley.

The letter contains very few details, and the description of the machine does not give the army officer who received the letter a definite idea as to what the mechanism was like or how it was to have been exploded. The captain wrote that the box was aboard the ship when she left New York and he said that it must have been placed aboard here.

The Port Victor is known as transport No. 2. She carried eight hundred tons of Red Cros stores as well as a large quantity of supplies from the United States commissary department. At Tampa she was to have taken on 2,400 quarters of fresh beef.

REGULARS AND VOLUNTEERS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Adjutant General Corbin to-night made public a statement of the progress made in the organization of the regular and volunteer armies of the United States up to and including July 24. In the ninety days which have elapsed since the President issued his first call for volunteers an army of 261,400 men has been recruited, mustered, equipped and placed in the field, an achievement that has elicited surprise and admiration from the best informed authorities of Europe.

The personnel of the army is far superior to that of any body of men hitherto raised for military purposes by the United States.

TOWN DESTROYED.

A Nova Scotian Shipping Port Wiped Out by Fire.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 25.—The town of Pugwash, 1,200 inhabitants, a deal shipping port of considerable importance on the Straits of Northumberland, was wiped out by fire to-day, 200 dwellings, five churches, twenty stores, three hotels and several mills being destroyed. The town was little insured, owing to the absence of fire protection. The inhabitants are now encamped in the fields and woods. Several people are reported missing, but it is impossible yet to tell who, if any, lost their lives. Relief is being organized in every direction.

All persons offering to take $4,500 or less will receive bonds. The first shipment of the new bonds was made to-day. The bonds will be sent out as rapidly as possible.
